

BFA Faculty Affairs Resolution
Resolution Condemning the Recent Executive Order on Immigration
BFA-R-2-020217

On January 27, 2017, one of Donald Trump's first acts as president was to issue an executive order banning Syrian refugees from entering the United States indefinitely; banning all refugees from entering the United States for four months; and banning all non-U.S.-citizens from seven Muslim-majority nations from entering the United States for ninety days. On January 28, U.S. District Court Judge Ann Donnelly enjoined the
