According to College rules incomplete grades (IF) can be given only under the following three conditions: (i) the student must initiate the request for an IF; (ii) an IF can be given only if the student cannot complete the course for reasons beyond his or her control (such as a medical emergency); and (iii) the student and the instructor must complete and sign an agreement stipulating the reasons for the incomplete and the conditions for completing the course.

Additional administrative issues governing disability needs, religious observances, honor code, etc. can be found in the final section of this syllabus covering uwf g p v u o t k i j v u c p f t g u r q p u k d k n k v k g u k p E W courses.

Course Topics

With that out of the way, we can move on to more interesting matters of course content. International macroeconomics a fascinating, but challenging, field with important implications for both national economies and the world economy as a whole. The recent global economic crisis certainly makes this a timely topic, and you will see that turmoil in international financial markets has occurred again and again. Why do nations and the community of nations have such difficulty managing our international financial affairs? What causes these recurring crises? Can we design institutions or that have been in place over the past 100 years: the gold standard, the Bretton Woods system, and the current mixed system. Our current mixture of exchange rate arrangements includes common currency areas, such as the euro area, to which Feenstra and Taylor have devoted an entire chapter. These are some of the issues and topics that will emerge from our

(4) Policies towards Discrimination and Harassment:

The University of Colorado Boulder (CU-Boulder) is committed to maintaining a positive learning, working, and living environment. The University of Colorado does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, creed, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status in admission and access to, and treatment and employment in, its educational programs and activities. (Regent Law, Article 10, amended 11/8/2001). CU-Boulder will not tolerate acts of discrimination or harassment based upon Protected Classes or related retaliation against or by any employee or student. For purposes of this CU-Boulder policy, "Protected Classes" refers to race, color, national origin, sex, pregnancy, age, disability, creed, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or veteran status. Individuals who believe they have been discriminated against should contact the Office of Discrimination and Harassment (ODH) at 303-492-2127 or the Office of Student Conduct (OSC) at 303-492-5550. Information about the ODH, the above referenced policies, and the campus resources available to assist individuals regarding discrimination or harassment can be obtained at <http://hr.colorado.edu/dh/>

(5) CU Honor Code:

All students of the University of Colorado at Boulder are responsible for knowing and adhering to the academic integrity policy of this institution. Violations of this policy may include: cheating, plagiarism, aid of academic dishonesty, fabrication,
