Policy on Cheating:

If you are found to have violated the honor code (see below) by both the honor code council and myself, you will automatically fail the course!

Class format:

The course includes both lectures and problem-solving. In-class problems will be performed both individually and in groups. The readings for this course will be posted on the course web site although some of the material for which you are responsible will be presented in lectures only, and is not explicitly covered in the readings. Review problems will be posted on the course web site.

3. Group scholarship: we will work some practice problems in groups, which can help your understanding of the material whether you already understand it fairly well, or are struggling a bit. These cooperative learning exercises are extremely helpful in preparing you to solve more in-depth analytical problems.
Peer-learning of material is one of the most instructive learning systems because:
 - a. If you are going to inform others about what you know, you must first fully understand it yourselves. If you cannot explain a concept to others you may not fully understand it yourself.
 - b. Most “real-world” careers require some form of teamwork skills.
 - c. You can discern what it takes to teach others.
 - d. It will teach you how to respond to critical questions in front of others.
4. Self-study: reading the text and solving the review questions.

Final Exam Conflicts

Official University Policy states that: If you have three or more final exams scheduled on the same day, you are entitled to arrange an alternative exam time for the last exam or exams scheduled on that

Additional Notes:

Honor Code

All students of the University of Colorado at Boulder are responsible for knowing and adhering to the academic integrity policy of this institution. Violations of this policy may include: cheating, plagiarism, aid of academic dishonesty, fabrication, lying origin, sex, age, disability, creed, religion, sexual orientation, or veteran status in admission and access to, and treatment and employment in, its educational programs and activities. (Regent Law, Article 10, amended 11/8/2001). CU-Boulder will not tolerate acts of discrimination or harassment based upon Protected Classes or related retaliation against or by any employee or student. For purposes of this CU-Boulder policy, "Protected Classes" refers to race, color, national origin, sex, pregnancy, age, disability, creed, religion, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression, or veteran status. Individuals who believe they have been discriminated against should contact the Office of Discrimination and Harassment (ODH) at 303-492-2127 or the Office of
