

Instr Dr Saa Aila

Email: sa@

Zm: <https://calendar.google.com/calendar/ical/.../saaila>

x Office Hours Today and Thursday 10 am -12:30 pm on Zoom

INSTRUCTOR BIO

I am an economics instructor with more than 20 years of experience. My specialties are in the fields of environmental economics and more recently in how to teach economics. I have been involved in projects related to air quality, climate change, and...

Your access MindTap high cost site, Canvas Films and is:
http://engage.com/pages/UC_MindTap

Canvas : <http://canvas.luc.edu/> (Canvas) and any other additional readings will be found in Canvas. Please check Canvas frequently for any email notifications or changes that may occur throughout the course.

R is a free programming language that is available for Mac, Windows and Unix operating systems. It is installed on campus and can be downloaded from the Internet. You will be able to use the R console interface to do R exercises. We will provide some of the class materials in the form of R help files. R has self-contained documentation in the form of install files.

On the R exercise website, training on how to install and do some basic things in R. I will help you through the semester. An additional fee is the book Modern R by John Fox and John Fox, published by Boca Raton, FL: CRC Press, 2015. <http://b>

EVALUATION AND GRADING

TUTORING

The Economics Department offers drop-in office hours assistance in all courses. The major and casual in the undergraduate courses. The Department website is <http://www.cledu.edu/economics/index/513/attachment>.

The Economics Department maintains a list of available software. The website is <http://www.cledu.edu/economics/index/515/attachment>.

TECHNOLOGY SUPPORT

CU Builders Canvas

Here is the list of recommended system requirements Canvas Computer Specifications Page

Here is the detailed list of network issues in Windows, MacOS, iOS and Android: Spd Bios Page

Technical Support

- x Canvas technical support if you are experiencing issues with Canvas. Please contact
 - o CU Builders Helpdesk at 303-735-4357 (5-HELP) or help@cledu.edu. 5-HELP and call: Monday through Friday from 7:30 a.m. to 7:00 p.m., Saturday and Sunday from 10:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m., Cleveland, Ohio. University Holidays
 - o

NETIQUETTE

All users should be aware that their behavior impacts others, even online. Help to make all online environments and web-based tools and applications better places to use. Remember the net is a public place. Here are some things to remember:

1. Always think before you post. Inappropriate comments, messages, or posts can be misinterpreted. So please think twice before you post.
2. Keep it relevant. There are places to chat and post every day. Don't post in the discussion areas unless you are asked to.
3. Never use all caps. This is equivalent to yelling in the online world. It is not a good idea. Only use capital letters when appropriate.
4. Make sure you are using appropriate language. Avoid using profanity, slurs, or other offensive language. Remember, you are representing your institution and your skills. Emotions are fine as long as they are appropriate. A smile is welcome, anything offensive is not.
5. Treat people the same as you would face-to-face (or kinder). It might be easy to hide behind the computer screen, but people can tell when you are not being respectful. Remember, there is a person behind the name on the screen. Treat them with the same respect and courtesy that you would expect in a face-to-face interaction.

Website: <http://wbin.cm/netiq/cetes.html>

Compiled by Melissa Landin, Instructor of Communication, Inver Hills Community College, mlandin@inverhills.edu leave class asked to be fu s comply the elements in be efeed (Student Conduct & Conflict Resol. Sten. shewp accommdain beca a disability pens them from fulfilling a few measelad infectious disease will be asked to file on the

^ }uu} š]}v (}CE]•]o]š] •_ •š š u vš }v šZ]• •Çoo μ•X

The Office of Internal Equity and Compliance (OIEC) handles individual and community concerns and individuals who believe they have been subjected to misconduct can contact OIEC at 303-492-2127, email ce@coloradocollege.edu, or visit our website at www.coloradocollege.edu/oiec, and policies can be found in the OIEC website.

Please know that you have a right to file a complaint with OIEC when you have made a report of any violation of policies regardless of whether you had concerns that individuals impacted receive information about their rights, processes and policies. To learn more about filing and your rights, visit http://www.coloradocollege.edu/oiec.

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS

Campus activities regarding eligibility and attendance should be made with consideration for religious observances and fairly for all students because religious observances may conflict with scheduled assignments and attendance. Because of the flexibility of timing of completion of assignments in this system, contact the instructor at least two weeks in advance if you anticipate a religious holiday may impact completion of class. Some information on the eligible holidays commonly observed by CU Boulder students is in the online interfaith calendar.

COURSE WITHDRAWAL POLICY

Any student who withdraws from the course must submit a request to Continuing Education. For complete information, please visit their website at <http://ce.coloradocollege.edu/ce-sites/ce-and-deadlines-general-info/>.

ADDITIONAL SUPPORT SERVICES

A variety of internal services such as writing center guidance, personal counseling, and library services are available to students. For more information about these services, visit the College of Arts and Sciences website.

