

Ke B e S B a

Ken Bonetti is currently a professional academic advisor in the University of Colorado Boulder, Department of Economics. Ken attended two years at CU and earned his bachelor's and master's degrees in economics at Colorado State University. Ken has been advising students for over 25 years, first as an open option advisor at Colorado State. Mr. Bonetti has advised in the Economics Department since 2004. Ken also taught economics at Colorado State.

In addition to his higher education work, Ken has been intimately involved in public affairs. He has volunteered and worked for over 40 years to educate, organize and advocate on a variety of public issues related to foreign policy, environmental conservation, urban planning, low-income housing, historic preservation, energy development, transportation planning and international trade. Ken currently volunteers with the Sierra Club Indian Peaks Group and works part time as a lobbyist on trade issues for the Rocky Mountain Peace and Justice Center in Boulder.